

wedding stationery

I handle printing and design of stationery separately as each of these have very different factors influencing them. The design fee is a once off payment that gets divided between your initial deposit and final invoice sent after all design is finished.

I QUOTE WEDDING STATIONERY IN Two SEPARATE WAYS

BOTH OF THESE HAVE DIFFERENT FACTORS INFLUENCING THEIR PRICE

To quote on design we need a list of elements you'll require (from our price list or if you have a different idea just tell us). Keep in mind that 3 sets of changes are included in the price for each element. The design fee is NOT influenced by printing factors or quantities needed.

All printing gets done through a 3rd party. So if you require us to handle this side we will need to discuss all the factors influencing it - size, paper, quantity + turn around time - to get an accurately priced quote.

Please Note: 50% non-refundable deposit on confirmation of services. Printing fees are a separate cost. Includes 3 sets of changes. Designer may need 7-14 days till first presentation. Subject to availability.

Q+A

Ok, your prices look good. How do I get the ball rolling?

Yay! Please send us a list of the elements you'll be needing and we'll email you a personalized quote. You'll need to pay a 50% deposit before any work gets started.

How does the process work?

1. We'll send you a few questions about you both as a couple and what you are looking for. This helps us figure out what direction to take the design. Just keep in mind the more specific you are the better the chances of us getting your stationery 100% correct and spot on the first time round.

2. On first presentation we'll send you some options on which you can make changes and adjustments. Keep in mind that 3 sets of changes are included in the design fee.

What is your payment structure?

After accepting the personalised quote, We'll need 50% deposit before starting with any design. Once all design is completed you shall receive an invoice for the outstanding amount.

How long does it usually take?

That depends on a few things: the complexity of the job and work flow in our studio. We'll usually send you the first presentation within 7-14 working days.

Do you charge extra for changes?

First 3 sets of changes are included in the price. Hand Rendered, only 1. There after we will charge at an hourly rate. A set can include a lot of changes (but they need to all come together in one email, this helps keep things organised).

Will you handle printing my stationery items for me?

Yes, all printing quotes are unique and depends on paper, size, quantity and colour. You will receive a proof, which needs to be signed off before going to final print. This proof can be either electronic or physical depending on the time and your preference.

Will you write the copy for my invite?

If requested we will gladly generate copy for you at additional cost.

Is it possible to see you in person?

95% of my communication with clients are through emails, phone calls, text and skype. However we can organise a meet where we'll charge some traveling fees depending on the distance.

Do you have any qualification?

We studied BA Visual Communications at Vega The Brand Communications School.

Do you print everything yourself?

No I use a 3rd party for all printing.

How does postage work?

Unless otherwise stated, We use a courier to deliver all packages. Prices quoted upon request. Please let us know if you'd rather have me send it with the post office.
